Jess McAlister

Assistant Director
Jefferson County Public Library

Tuesday, October 8

12:00 P.M. – 1:00 P.M. ET

Jess McAlister (they/them) is a dedicated library professional with over a decade of experience at the public library, where they have served as the Assistant Director since 2021. A lifelong resident of Madison, Indiana, Jess graduated from Indiana University in 2013 with a Bachelor's of Science in Education, focusing on Social Studies. Their deep passion for literacy and information freedom drives their work and advocacy.

In addition to their role at the library, Jess has been the Chair of the Human Relations Commission for the City of Madison since 2019, where they contribute to important community initiatives. Jess proudly embraces their LGBTQIA identity and enjoys sharing this aspect of themselves with others. Outside of work, they are married, a cat parent to two felines, and a fan of reality TV.
